

Jam Notes

#1 – June 17, 2011

Pomona's has some exciting news to share, so we are sending you our first-ever Jam Notes.

We have created a Pomona's Pectin Instructional Video: "How To Make Low-Sugar Strawberry Jam." It is posted on our website and on YouTube. We think it's both beautiful and helpful – and hope you will watch it and think so too!

Have you every wanted to put a face to the voice that answers your questions on the Pomona's Jamline? Now you can – just click on one of these links and meet Connie Sumberg.

Pomona's now has a Facebook Page. If you are a Facebook user, join the growing community of Pomona's fans. With your participation, it can become a place for sharing favorite Pomona's recipes and more. If you have any comments or feedback for us – on our video, on Jam Notes, or on what you are currently making with Pomona's, please write on our wall.

Would you like to be able to buy Pomona's at your local natural food store, food co-op, farm stand, or independent grocery store, but it's not there? Learn how to earn a free box by helping us get Pomona's into stores where it is not currently sold. Go to our website and click on the tab that says "Earn a FREE Box" to download the instructions and forms you need.

Weather all over the country has been difficult this spring – but the fruit is finally starting to ripen and we hope your thoughts are turning to all the delectable low-sweetener jams and jellies you can make with Pomona's. Visit our website and click on the Recipes/Directions tab to download additional free recipes.

We hope to send out Jam Notes once or twice a year. If you want to receive it, do nothing; you are on our email list. If you would like to be removed from our list, please reply to this email and tell us so. We will remove you immediately.

Thanks so much for being a Pomona's Pectin Jammer, and be sure to look for Pomona's at your local natural food store, food co-op, farm stand, or independent grocery store.

Sincerely,

Your Pomona's Team: Connie Sumberg, Mary Lou Sumberg, and Paul Rooney
